We Value Your Feedback

Each year, the district invites parents and community members to provide feedback on general school and district questions. The survey is anonymous. Schools and the district use this information in planning for the future and in continuous improvement processes.

This year's survey is now open: tell us what you think! Please click here to take the survey. The survey will be open through January 19th.

The district also surveys parents on specific programs and planned strategic work: that survey will open in February.

Science Competitions:

Is your student interested in participating in science competitions outside of their current science coursework? Eastlake is registered for numerous science competitions that they can participate in. Each one must be registered and paid for by the student. Click here for a list of competitions and the available information. If you have any questions please email Krista Bjorge at kbjorge@lwsd.org.

January Wolf of the Month nominees:

Sammamish Rotary Student of the Month:

The Eastlake Music Department was excited to choose Olivia Victorino as the Rotary Student of the Month for January. Olivia is a model band member. As the drummer for the Jazz Band she is the only person playing her instrument and she knows how important her role is. She can always be relied upon to know her part and to be where she is supposed to be, usually early! She is serving as the Vice-President and an Assistant Drum Major this year and has focused on peer recognition to try to motivate the other band members to be the best musicians they can be. Olivia has always been willing to play with the orchestra and choir when they need a percussionist and has also been in the pit for the musical too. Olivia's dedication to music inspires those around her and she is a great example of what the Eastlake Band is striving to be!

Class Highlight - Whats Going on in Introduction to Marketing?

Ms. Petersen's Introduction to Marketing class may start at 7:30 in the morning, but her students are anything but tired. Before the 2-week winter break, the class was introduced to a project where groups of students were to create their own board or card game. The students will complete field research among their peers, all will be completed mid-January. This project was designed to put the students' knowledge on product and service management to the test. They will have to plan, design, and prototype their board or card game, giving the students an idea of what it may be like creating an actual new product. According to sophomore Mia Morehart, this project is a favorite among Ms. Petersen's students. "I think it's super cool that we're able to do a project like this in class that's also helping us get a real-world understanding of this unit," she explained when asked about the game project. When asked about the class overall, Mia puts it under her list of favorites. "I love being in this class because the information can actually be useful later in life, and Ms. Petersen isn't too hard on us." Keep it up, Marketing students! - Kelly Comstock Eastlake senior.

"Being on the Utah women's soccer team is amazing. I love my teammates and I am having such a great experience. Its difficult but I knew it would be going in. We didn't do as well as we had hoped but I'm excited to improve over these next couple years"

Pia Richards - Washington State University - Cross Country/Track & Field

"I was injured at the end of my cross country season, but I'm training for indoor track right now. I'm hoping to run the mile and the 3k in indoor and training is going very well - my injury is gone and I'm getting faster which I'm very excited about! In outdoor track I hope to run the 3k steeple chase so I'm going to start gearing my training toward that too. Overall I love it, the team is awesome and my coach, Phipps is wonderful as well!"
