Principal Message

Dear Wolves -

This week we had the opportunity to celebrate our first ever International Week. We are fortunate here at Eastlake to have an increasingly diverse population of students who are bold enough to share their culture with us. Students gave facts about language learning and recited the pledge in different languages during our morning announcements, created labels to post around the school in different languages, made signs and a video translating our Eastlake values into different languages and performed their talents for the community and student body.

We had an International Talent Show and an International Assembly to showcase the diverse talents of our students. Students who performed in these events were: Amay Bansal, Anjul Bansal, Sachi Bhatt, Priti Das, Anthony Hernandez, Jason Li, Sarah Li, Stephanie Li, Himani Nijhawan, Tejaa Obulisamy Saravanan, Ivan Penev, Sarah Ramirez and Layasri Ranjith. Their performances provided our student body with a personal connection to new perspectives. We would also like to thank: Ryan Angliss, Matt Jelen, Sarah Ramirez, Adam Westmoreland, Annie Bequette, Jenna Raymond and Chloe Walker for all their help setting up and running the two events for us.

1. AP exam registration is $96 per exam this year.
2. You can pay online or by cash/check to the bookkeeper. The directions are in your registration packet. If you register online, you must print out a copy of your receipt and turn it in to the bookkeeper along with your registration envelope in order to guarantee that your test will be ordered.
3. You must register and pay for your AP test by 1 p.m. on March 7. The lines will get long, so save yourself the stress and register early.
4. Make sure you use the full name of your AP Class - for example, AP Language and Composition rather than AP English.
